A Brief Abstract of the Event (Maximum 500 Words):

The objective of the One Day Webinar is to explain and explore the Practical Aspects of the Water Treatment Plant's present and future.

The Department of Chemical Engineering, School of Studies of Engineering and Technology has successfully conducted a Webinar On "Practical Aspects of Water Treatment Plant" on July 19, 2022 at 03:30 PM in online mode. All the activities associated with the webinar were well structured, settled, coordinated and managed by Dr. Sandeep Dharmadhikari, coordinator and Dr. Raghwendra Singh Thakur, Dr. Saurabh Meshram, and Dr. Amit Jain Co-coordinators. The talk was fruitfully attended by the faculty members and 32 final-year students of the Department of Chemical Engineering. Dr. Sandeep Dharmadhikari, Assistant Professor, Chemical Engineering, Guru Ghasidas Vishwavidyalaya provided the greeting and welcome to all guests. Dr. Raghwendra Singh Thakur delivered a concise speech on the objective of the special talk. Mr. Amit Khare briefed the technical session and the importance of water treatment plants in the present era, different types of water treatment methods, water harvesting, and the detailed mechanism of the process. Prof. M.K. Singh (I/C Dean), delivered a motivational speech and congratulated the organizers. The inaugural session ended with a Vote of thanks by Dr. Anil Kumar Chandrakar, Co-convenor of this program.

The session further continued with the lecture of Mr. Amit Khare, Director, A2 Environment consultant, Raipur (Chhattisgarh). He very well described the different types of water treatment methods, water harvesting, and detailed mechanism of the process. He added that this field is very useful from the academic, research, and industrial perspective. At the end of the program, Dr. Sandeep Dharmadhikari proposed a vote of thanks to every individual who was directly or indirectly associated with this program to make it a grand success.
