Webinar Theme
Gender-based violence is a worldwide problem, but in order to better understand the patterns of violence and its causes and, hence, to eliminate them, the starting point should be knowledge of the particular historical and socio-cultural factors at work in each specific context. The specific nature of gender-based violence in the home is such that other, apparently less serious forms of behavior may also be identified as acts of violence

The webinar aims at bringing the specialists on the subject to throw light on the intricacies of these issues and to discuss elimination of gender-based violence. Besides this the webinar also aims to discuss and pool together provide deep information regarding the topics, the law and regulation other activity for creating awareness.

Apart from this our delegates will also be enlightened on prevention of violence. The main objective of this awareness campaign is to mitigate the gender-based violence from the society to create a JUST society.
