INTERNSHIP COMPONENTS

SEMESTER-I

COURSE SI 1: SCHOOL VISIT-I (UPPER PRIMARY TO HIGHER SECONDARY)

COURSE OBJECTIVES

MARKS: 50 | CREDITS: 2 | 2 Weeks

After completing the course the student-teachers will be able to

- Acquire sufficient basic information regarding various kinds of schools
- Understand the various processes, scholastic, co-scholastic and official, undergoing in a school in detail
- Ability to reflect upon the total environment of the school to plan for appropriate teaching practices and to prepare her/himself to play her/his role as a teacher in school

Every teacher has a vivid experience of school as being a student, sometimes in life. But the way one understands the school, changes when the position is changed to that of a teacher. A school visit for duration of two weeks is expected to give the prospective teachers the first opportunity to observe 'the school' from a teachers' point of view. They are expected to revisit the processes going on within a school systems to understand their nature, purpose, role played by various people concerned, role of external authorities, quality and quantity issues, issues of infrastructure and planning, etc. This visit shall just be an exposure to connect their memories of school days with the present realities of school systems in order to sensitise them 'what kind of a teacher they wish to become', 'what kind of a school they wish to be a part of' and 'what should their role be in achieving that'. Close, sincere interaction with the school environment and keen observation, as well as honest recording of the experience is expected from the prospective teachers after ensuring fulltime presence in the school/s allotted to them.

The prospective teachers are expected

1. To prepare a check list of important points to observe on the basis of NCF 2005, RTE Act, and other relevant recommendations
2. To observe and record in detail the following aspects in approx:
  - The physical environment
  - The socio-cultural ethos of the school
  - The infrastructure: Basic and academic
  - The nature of administration and governance
  - Teachers and learners
  - General methodologies of teaching-learning in different subjects
  - Examination
  - Time table, discipline, CCA and physical exercises
  - Scope of interaction with the society
  - Welfare services (Health, financial, academic, etc.)
  - Local resources around the school
  - Other critical observations characteristic of a particular school
3. And, to evaluate and reflect on the observations.

COURSE SI 2: SCHOOL VISIT-II (UPPER PRIMARY TO HIGHER SECONDARY)

COURSE OBJECTIVES

MARKS: 50 | CREDITS: 2 | 2 weeks

To help the prospective teachers to:

- understand different types of interaction going on in an actual classroom
- be able to reflect various skills in an integrated fashion
- have a critical reflection on how to be an effective teacher
- get acquainted with various types of school activities and their role in education process

After an exposure to the school system as a whole, the second phase of school visit purports to bring the prospective teachers in close observation of the actual classroom teaching in various kinds of schools. While they are practising the teaching skills, newly introduced to them, they are expected to observe the teaching strategies adopted by the school teachers, their classroom management strategies to understand the factors leading to effective teaching. Moreover, it is expected that they observe the innovations, styles, and effectiveness of teaching to incorporate in their own teaching. They may also see the laboratory activities and other co—curricular activities related to their subject. They are expected to present a report of their observation and reflection on the following points:

- Methodologies used
- Nature and Level of student—teacher interaction
- Student participation
- Resources used
- Whether constructivism followed
- Student interest
- Innovations
- Student motivation for higher order thinking
- Issues of discipline, homework, evaluation
- Nature of Lab work and student-teacher interaction in lab
- Any other relevant aspect related the subject chosen

This phase also gives scope to the students to visit various schools that are different in nature than the normal schools, for example, innovative schools, vocational schools, schools for orphans and marginalised sections, adult schools, special schools, etc. This is expected to widen their view of education, understand various requirements in educational sector, appreciate the leadership of educationists working in such different sectors and look into themselves to be prepared for such services.

SEMESTER-III

COURSE SI 3: SCHOOL INTERNSHIP-I (UPPER PRIMARY TO HIGHER SECONDARY)

OBJECTIVES:

MARKS: 200 | CREDITS: 8 | 8 weeks

The Prospective teachers, after this field experience, will be able to

- Understand the Broader concept of internship apart from the practice teaching.
- Participate in the various types of activities in internship, as members of the school
- Show competence in core teaching skills.
- Become a reflective teacher capable of self-regulating learning to teach

In the two-year B.Ed. Programme, internship is professional preparation of a prospective teacher. The term internship refers to an arrangement under which a prospective teacher can acquire first hand experience as a teacher in situation closely resembling those in which s/he would be working upon entering the profession. It has been designed to provide each student with a comprehensive experience similar to actual teaching and working as a full time teacher in the cooperating schools in a block of 3rd and 4th semester. In this phase of Internship the students are engaged in teaching-learning process at allocated school for least eight weeks. It shall be planned and coordinated by Department of Education, GGV, in cooperation with one or more school system under the supervision of a teacher nominated by the Head of the department or by the Head of the practicing schools or by any experienced teacher nominated by concerned school principals.

In this phase of internship in this semester includes a wide variety of experiences in one or more schools but with a major focus on managing classroom teaching.

- Teaching-I
Teaching of Sub-I (40 marks)
Teaching of sub-II (40 marks)
- Teaching-II
Teaching of sub-I (60 marks)
Teaching of sub-II (60 marks)

-Prospective teachers are expected to plan and execute classroom teaching in both of their chosen subjects I and II. They are expected to take at least one lesson in a working day and complete within the duration of 8 weeks, minimum 50 classroom lessons with nearly equal weight on both the subjects.

-It is expected that the Prospective teachers will put effort to integrate various skills to create learning environment that generates scope of students' active participation in the learning process, scope of higher order thinking rather than rote learning and constant motivation for learning taking care of the existing individual differences.

-Every Prospective teacher is expected to reflect upon his teaching experience in detail after each day's teaching to critically analyse the strength, flaws and possible corrections or alternative pathways to her/his own strategies for successful fulfillment of instructional objectives under the guidance of supervisor.

-Evaluation: The evaluation of the performance of the prospective teacher will include her/his sincere efforts, novelty and variety in teaching as well as the records of gradual improvements throughout the total period which will be regularly monitored by the concerned Departmental supervisor, and will evaluate his/her Teaching I: Teaching of Subject-I and Subject-II(40 Marks for each Subject). Teaching II: Teaching of Subject-I and Subject-II (60 Marks for each Subject), in which two lessons one from each will be observed and evaluated by a panel of teachers towards the end of the Internship programme.

SEMESTER-IV

COURSE SI 4: SCHOOL INTERNSHIP-II (UPPER PRIMARY TO HIGHER SECONDARY)

OBJECTIVES:

MARKS: 200 | CREDITS: 8 | 8

weeks

After completion of this internship the prospective students will be able to

- Understand the Broader concept of internship apart from the practice teaching.
- Understand various types of activities in internship as a member of the school
- Various formats to be used in the teacher training programmes.
- Exhibit various skills in teaching, evaluation, remedying, administrative activities, conducting co-curricular activities, studying students' and solving their problems, etc.

In the two-year B.Ed. Programme, internship is the professional preparation of a prospective teacher. After focussing on the teaching aspects in the third semester (for 8 weeks), the last phase of school internship here is expected to prepare the prospective teachers for a holistic participation in the school situation. This will create a situation for the prospective teachers to undertake multiple job-roles of a teacher at a time and handle all of them with efficiency and commitment. This prepares them to feel the pressure and pleasure of performing multiple roles as a teacher, to feel how their participation makes a change among the learners and, thus, to develop a respect for the noble profession. The prospective teachers are expected to participate in teaching, evaluation, administrative tasks, conducting curricular activities, preparing learning material for catering students' needs as well as in a closer understanding of students in individual or in group through undertaking case studies, action research, etc. This phase of the school internship will again be of 8 weeks duration in the schools. The details of the tasks to be undertaken by the prospective teachers are as follows:

- Case study/individual portfolio-(25 marks) – Prospective teachers are expected to undertake this activity and complete it within the period. They may have a close observation on a single student or a small group during this period so as to produce a case study report or/and a portfolio reflecting a holistic understanding of these students. The aim is to bring the Prospective teachers as close as possible to the learners and their unique characteristics and their unique circumstantial problems. This in turn is expected to sensitise them about biological-psychological-social space of learners in which they are embedded and to enhance their self-efficacy as an effective problem solver as well as reflect upon maintaining an inclusive classroom situation and school ethos.
- School participation-(25 marks) – Prospective teachers are expected to participate in various school activities other than classroom teaching like the Morning assembly, conducting sessional tests, administrative works, etc. as and when allotted by the school and the teacher-in-charge.
- Teaching and Subject assessment-(50 marks)–Prospective teachers are expected to be able to assess comprehensively and continuously their students in both scholastic and co-scholastic dimensions of learning. This will include designing situations for diagnostic testing to assess learning and reflect upon the possible causes for it. This in turn will be an input for the remedial teaching designs as described in the preceding point. They are also expected to design the means for preparing strategies for assessing co-scholastic aspects and submit an evidence based detailed report.

- Action research: (25 marks)–The prospective teachers may identify some problem situation and undertake an action research to put effort to a practical solution for it. The aim is to bring the Prospective teachers as close as possible to the learners and their unique characteristics and their unique circumstantial problems. This in turn is expected to sensitise them about biological-psychological-social space of learners in which they are embedded and to enhance their self-efficacy as an effective problem solver and as a teacher-a friend, philosopher and guide.
- Administrative Work (attendance record/time table/ register/ stock/ exam duty, etc.)-(25 marks) –Prospective teachers are expected to participate in the administrative functions also like a real teacher does in the school. This will include maintaining records like the attendance record, student record, registers, stock, etc. under the guidance of the school teachers. They should also participate in planning school activities through preparing different time tables and programmes. The overall experience through such participation during this phase is expected to prepare the prospective teachers for fulfilling various administrative responsibilities and inculcate leadership qualities.
- Conducting morning assembly and CCA -(25 marks)–Prospective teachers are expected to conduct morning assembly regularly during the period. They are expected to bring innovation to make the assembly an interesting activity for the students to participate and so to enhance student participation. They should regularly organise CCA in the school to enrich students with various art, literature and culture as a whole. They should take care to design such activities giving equal opportunity to all learners creating a multicultural ethos in the school system encouraging democratic thoughts and action. This will also include celebration of days of national or regional importance so as to acquaint the students of our vast cultural and national heritage.
- Preparation of TLM-(25 marks) Prospective teachers are expected to prepare at least two suitable Teaching Learning Materials, either in Hard or Soft form, on their own subject area. The materials should be justified in their use in the real situation. This may include model, working model, PPT presentation for higher level learning, Braille material, etc.
